Holy God, We Praise Thy Name

Holy God, we praise thy Name ;	Hark ! The loud celestial hymn
Lord of all, we bow before thee ;	Angel choirs above are raising ;
All on earth thy scepter 'claim ;	Cherubim and seraphim,
All in heav'n above adore thee ;	In unceasing chorus praising,
Infinite thy vast domain ;	Fill the heav'ns with sweet accord :
Everlasting is thy reign.	Holy, holy, holy Lord.

PRAYER AFTER THE DIVINE OFFICE

Let every creature give unending praise, honor, power and glory throughout all eternity to the Most Holy and Undivided Trinity, the crucified humanity of our Lord Jesus Christ, the chaste Motherhood of Mary, the ever glorious and blessed Virgin, and to the entire assembly of saints, and may we be granted the forgiveness of our sins.

Blessed is the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary which bore the Son of the Eternal Father. And blessed are the breasts which nursed Christ our Lord.

PRAYER BEFORE THE DIVINE OFFICE

Open my lips, O Lord, to praise your holy Name. Cleanse my heart of any vain, evil, or distracting thoughts. Give light to my mind and fervor to my will; enable me to recite this Office worthily, attentively, and devoutly, so that my prayer will be heard in the presence of your divine Majesty. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Lord, I offer you this Hour with the divine intention you had while on earth offering praises to God.

THE HOLY FAMILY OF JESUS, MARY AND JOSEPH. AT SECOND VESPERS

From a sermon by Saint John Chrysostom

The divine Word, while remaining forever immutable, has become a man. What more shall I say of this mystery? Before my eyes are a workman and a crib, an infant and swaddling bands, a virgin in childbirth lacking even the necessities of life — everything in utter deprivation, an abundance only of poverty. See how he who has so much has made himself poor for our sake, possessing neither bed nor cover, but lying like an outcast in a bare manger! Here, poverty is the source of all riches. Here, plenty is concealed in destitution. He lies in a manger, and the foundations of the world are shaken. Wrapped in swaddling clothes, he bursts the bonds of sin.

OPENING VERSE

STAND

O God, come to my as-sistance. R. O Lord, make haste to help me. Glo-ry to the Fa-ther, and to the Son, and to the Ho-ly Spir-it : as it was in the be-gin-nig, is now, and will be for ev-er. A-men. Al- le- lu- ia.

HYMN

Pope Leo XIII † 1903

O lux beata cœlitum. (L.M.)

*C 1. O Jesus, joy of heav'n above,
And highest hope of mortal man,
The purest love that home can know
Surrounded your frail infancy.*

*A 2. O Mary, rich in ev'ry grace,
Your privilege was quite unique :
To feed your Son and infant God,
And softly kiss his tiny cheek.*

*C 3. Most favored patriarch of all,
The Virgin Mother's strength and stay,
The chosen guardian of your Lord,
Who called you father day by day.*

*A 4. All three from Jesse's noble stem,
And born to do salvation's work,
Pay heed to all the earnest prayers
We trustfully pour out to you.*

*C 5. As your home flourished with the grace
Of ev'ry virtue's fairest flow'r;
In love and peace may all our homes
Reflect a little of your own.*

*A 6. O Jesus, Virgin-born, we raise
Our hearts to you in joyful praise,
Whom with the Father we adore,
And Holy Spirit, evermore.*

Amen.

READING

Philippians 2 : 6-7

Though he was in the form of God, Christ Jesus did not deem equality with God something to be grasped at. Rather, he emptied himself and took the form of a slave, being born in the likeness of men. He was known to be of human estate.

FROM A HOMILY BY THE VENERABLE BEDE

The fact that at twelve years old he sat in the Temple among the doctors, listening and asking questions, is a sign or rather an outstanding example of the humility that we must learn. The fact that as he sat in the Temple the Lord said: I must be about my Father's business, proclaims that his power and glory is co-eternal with that of God his Father. But the fact that he returned to Nazareth and was under the authority of his parents is at once a sign of his true humanity and an example of humility. For it was in his human nature, in which he was less than the Father, that he was subject to human authority.

And his Mother kept all these things, pondering them in her heart. Everything that she knew to have been said or done by the Lord or concerning him the Virgin Mother kept diligently in her heart. She committed it all carefully to memory, so that when the time should come for preaching or writing about the Lord's incarnation she could base her explanations to enquirers upon a complete record of his deeds.

Let us too, my brethren, imitate the faithful Mother of the Lord, and repel the invasion of vain and harmful thoughts by imprinting on our hearts every word and deed of our Lord and Savior and meditating on them day and night. For if we wish in the blessed age to come to dwell in the house of the Lord to praise him for ever, we must anticipate in this age, by our frequent visits to the church, what we seek in the age to come; and this not only singing God's praises in church, but by showing forth in every place where he rules, both in words and in deeds, those things that redound to the praise and glory of our Creator.

It is good that after it has been said that Jesus increased in wisdom and in stature and in favor there is added with God and men. Because as by growing in stature he made accessible to me the gifts of wisdom and grace that were his, so likewise he tirelessly roused them to the praise of God the Father, carrying out himself what he taught others to do: Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father in heaven.
